

Notice of Privacy Practices

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

This Notice of Privacy Practices is being provided to you as a requirement of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA.) This notice describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information to carry out treatment, payment or healthcare operations and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information in some cases. Your “protected health information” means any of your written and oral health information including demographic data that can be used to identify you. This is health information that is created or received by your healthcare provider and that related to your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition.

I. Uses and disclosures of protected health information

The practice may use your protected health information for purposes of proceeding treatment, obtain payment for treatment and conducting healthcare operations. Your protected health information may be used or disclosed only for these purposes unless the practice has obtained your authorization or the use of your disclosure is otherwise permitted by the HIPAA Privacy Regulations or state law. Disclosures of your protected health information for the purposes described in this notice may be made in writing, orally, or by facsimile.

- A. Treatment. We will use and disclose your protected health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your healthcare and any related services. This includes the coordination or management of your healthcare with a third party for treatment purposes. For example, we may disclose your protected health information to a pharmacy to fulfill a prescription, to a laboratory to order a blood test, or to a home health agency that is providing care in your home. We may also disclose protected health information about you to people outside the office who may be involved in your medical care after you leave the office, such as family members, other physicians involved in your care, or others we use to provide services that are part of your care.
- B. Payment. Your protected health information will be used as needed to obtain payment for the services that we provide. This may include certain communications to your health insurer to get approval for the treatment that we recommend. For example, if a hospital admission is recommended, we may need to disclose information to your health insurer to get prior approval for the hospitalization. We may also disclose protected health information to your insurance company to determine whether you are eligible for benefits or whether a particular service is covered under your health plan. In order to get payment for your services, we may also need to disclose your protected health information to your insurance company to demonstrate the medical necessity of the services or as required by your insurance company for utilization review. We may also disclose patient information to another provider involved in your care for the other provider’s payment activities.
- C. Operations. We may use or disclose your protected health information, as necessary for our own healthcare operations in order to facilitate the function of the practice and to provide quality care to all patients. Healthcare operations include such activities as:
 - Quality assessment and improvement activities.
 - Employee review activities
 - Training programs including those in which students, trainees, or practioners in healthcare learn under supervision
 - Accreditation, certification, licensing, or credentialing activities
 - Review and auditing, including compliance reviews, medical reviews, legal services, and maintaining compliance programs
 - Business management and general administrative activities

In certain situations, we may also disclose patient information to another provider or health plan for their healthcare operations.

D. Other uses and disclosures. As part of treatment, payment and healthcare operations, we may also use or disclose your protected health information for the following purposes:

- To remind you of an appointment
- To inform you of potential treatment alternatives or options
- To inform you of health related benefits of services that may be of interest to you
- To contact you to raise funds for the practice or an institution foundation related to the practice. If you do not wish to be contacted regarding fundraising, please contact our Privacy Officer.
- Uses and Disclosures Beyond Treatment, Payment, and Healthcare Operations Permitted Without Authorization or Opportunity to Object.

II. Uses and disclosures beyond treatment, payment and healthcare operations permitted without authorization or opportunity to object.

A. When Legally Required. We will disclose your protected health information when we are required to do so by any federal, state, or local law.

B. When They are Risks to Public Health. We may disclose your protected health information for the following public activities and purposes:

- To Prevent, control, or report disease, injury, or disability as permitted by law.
- To report vital events such as birth or death as permitted or required by law.
- To conduct public health surveillance, investigations and interventions as permitted or required by law.
- To collect or report adverse events and product defects, track FDA regulated products; enable product recalls, repairs or replacements to the FDA and to conduct post marketing surveillance.
- To notify a person who has been exposed to communicable disease or who may be at risk of contracting or spreading a disease authorized by law.
- To report to an employer information about an individual who is a member of the work force as legally permitted or required.

C. To Report Abuse, Neglect, or Domestic Violence. We may notify government authorities if we believe that a patient is the victim of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence. We will make this disclosure only when specifically required or authorized by law or when the patient agrees to the disclosure.

D. To Conduct Health Oversight Activities. We may disclose your protected health information to a health oversight agent for activities including audits, civil, administrative or criminal investigations, proceeding or actions; inspections: licensure or disciplinary actions or law. We will not disclose your health information if you are the subject of an investigation and your health information is not directly related to your receipt of healthcare or public benefits.

E. In Connection with Judicial and Administrative Proceedings. We may disclose your protected health information in the course of any judicial or administrative proceeding in repose to an order of a court or administrative tribunal as expressly authorized by such order or in response to signed authorization (in a format approved by the Michigan Court Administrator).

F. For Law Enforcement Purpose. We may disclose your protected health information to a law enforcement official for law enforcement purposes as follows:

- As required by law for reporting of certain types of wounds or other physical injuries.
- Pursuant to court order, court ordered warrant, subpoena, summons or similar process.
- For the purpose of identifying or locating a suspect, fugitive, material witness or missing person.
- Under certain limited circumstances when you are the victim of a crime.
- To a law enforcement officials if the practice has suspicion that your death was the result of criminal conduct.
- In an emergency in order to report a crime.

- G. To Coroners, Funeral Directors, and for Organ Donation. We may disclose protected health information to a coroner or medical examiner for identification purposes, to determine cause of death or for the coroner or medical examiner to perform other duties authorized by law. We may also disclose protected health information to a funeral director, as authorized by law in order to permit the funeral director to carry out their duties. We may disclose such information in reasonable anticipation of death. Protected health information may be used and disclosed for cadaver organ, eye or tissue donation purposes.
- H. For Research Purposes. We may use or disclose your protected health information for research when the use of disclosure for research has been approved by a review board or privacy board that has reviewed the research proposal and research protocols to address the privacy of your protected health information.
- I. In the Event of a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may, consistent with applicable law and ethical standards of conduct, use or disclose your protected health information if we believe, in good faith, that such use or disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to your health or safety or to the health and safety of the public.
- J. For Specified Government Functions. In certain circumstances, the federal regulations authorize the practice to use or disclose your protected health information to facilitate specific government functions relating to military and veterans activities, national security and intelligence activities, protective services for the President and others, medical suitability determinations, correctional institutions and law enforcement custodial situations.
- K. For Workers Compensation. The practice may release your health information to comply with workers compensation laws or similar programs.

III. Uses and disclosures permitted without authorization but with opportunity to object

We may disclose your protected health information to your family member or a close personal friend if it is directly relevant to the person's involvement in your care or payment related to your care. We can also disclose your information in coordination with trying to locate or notify family members or others involved in your care concerning your location, condition or death.

You may object to these disclosures. If you do not object to these disclosures or we can infer from the circumstances that you do not object or we determine, in the exercise of our professional judgement, that it is in your best interest for us to make disclosure of information that is directly relevant to the person's involvement with your care, we may disclose your health information as described.

IV. Uses and Discloses which you authorize.

Other than as stated above, we will not disclose your health information other than with your written authorization. You may revoke your authorization in writing at any time, except to the extent that we have taken action in reliance upon the authorization.

V. Your Rights

You have the following rights regarding your health information.

- A. The right to inspect and copy your protected health information. You may inspect and obtain a copy of your protected health information that is contained in a designated record set for as long as we maintain the protected health information. A "designated record set" contains medical and billing records and any other records that your physician and the practice use for making decisions about you. Under federal law, however, you may not inspect or copy the following records: psychotherapy notes; information compiled in reasonable anticipation of or for us in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding; and protected health information that is subject to a law that prohibits access to protect health information. Depending on the circumstances, you may have the right to have a decision to deny access reviewed.

We may deny your request to inspect or copy your protected health information if, in our professional judgment, we determine that the access requested is likely to endanger your life or safety or that of another person referenced within the information. You have the right to request a review of this decision.

To inspect and copy your medical information, you must submit a written request to the privacy officer whose contact information is listed on the last page of this notice. If you request a copy of your information, we may charge you a fee for the cost of copying, mailing, or other cost incurred by us in complying with your request. Please contact our privacy officer if you have any questions about access to your medical record.

- B. The right to request a restriction on uses and disclosures of your protected health information. You may ask us not to use or disclose certain parts of your protected health information for the purpose of treatment, payment or healthcare operations. You may also request that we not disclose your health information to family members or friends who may be involved in your care or for notification purpose as described in the Notice of Privacy Practices. Your request must state the specific restricted request and to whom you want the restriction to apply.
The practice is not required to agree to a restriction that you may request. We will notify you if we deny your request to a restriction. If the practice does agree to the requested restriction, we may not use or disclose your protected health information in violation of that restriction unless it is needed to provide emergency treatment. Under certain circumstances, we may terminate our agreement to a restriction. You may request a restriction by contacting the privacy officer.
- C. The right to receive confidential communications from us by alternative means or at an alternative location. You have the right to request that we communicate with you in certain ways. We will accommodate reasonable requests. We may condition this accommodation by asking you information as to how payment will be handled or specification of an alternative address or other methods of contact. We will not require you to provide an explanation for your request. Request must be made in writing to our privacy officer.
- D. The rights to have your physician amend your protected health information. You may request an amendment of protected health information about you in a designated recorded set for as long as we maintain this information. In certain cases, we may deny your request for an amendment. If we deny your request for an amendment, you have the right to file a statement of disagreement with us and we may prepare a rebuttal to your statement and will provide you with a copy of any such rebuttal. Request for an amendment must be in writing and must be directed to our privacy officer. In this written request, you must also provide a reason to suppose the requested amendment.
- E. The right to receive an accounting. You have the right to request an accounting of certain disclosures of your protected health information made by the practice. The right applies to disclosures for purposes other than treatment, payment or healthcare operation as described in this Notice of Privacy Practices. We are also not required to account for disclosures that you requested, disclosures that you agreed to by signing an authorization form, disclosures for a facility directory, to friends or family members involved in your care, or certain other disclosures we are permitted to make without your authorization. The request for an accounting must be made in writing to our privacy officer. The request should specify the time period sought for the accounting. We are not required to provide an accounting for disclosures that take place prior to April 14, 2003. Accounting requests may not be made for periods of time in excess of six years. We will provide the first accounting you request during any 12 month period without charge. Subsequent accounting requests may be subject to a reasonable cost based fee.
- F. The right to obtain a paper copy of this notice. Upon request, we will provide a separate paper copy of this notice even if you have already received a copy of the notice or have agreed to accept this notice electronically.

VI. Our Duties

The practice is required by law to maintain the privacy of your health information and to provide you with this notice of our duties and privacy practices. We are required to abide by the terms of this notice as may be amended from time to time. We reserve the right to change the terms of this notice and to make the notice provisions effective for all protected health information that we maintain. If the practice changes its notice, we will provide a copy of the revised notice by sending a copy of the revised notice via regular mail or through in-person contact.

VII. Complaints

You have the right to express complaints to the practice and to the Secretary of Health and Human Services if you believe that your privacy rights have been violated. You may complain to the practice by contacting the practice's privacy officer verbally or in writing, using the contact information below. We encourage you to express any concerns you may have regarding the privacy of your information. You will not be retaliated against in any way for filing a complaint.
